

A Unitive Invitational Message of Wisdom for All Christians

October 2, 2026

To the Catholic Church and all churches of Christ,

Grace and peace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with all of you. I'm filing this report, because I'm called to deliver a unitive message, which could be divine, to the Catholic Church and all churches of Christ. I did not receive it through any dream or vision of my own, but through my interpretation of an asynchronous mutual dream/vision (or AMDV), which a Hartselle, Alabama couple experienced in 2005 during the last week of September. I was living in nearby Decatur at the time they experienced it. The AMDV caused them to do something very weird the following Sunday, something that caused me to start receiving the unitive message.

The unitive message has two parts: knowledge, which was revealed to me from 2005 to 2012, and wisdom, which was taught to me from 2013 to 2023. On two separate occasions, I reported each part of the message to Fr. Michael Amadeo of Des Moines, Iowa, the knowledge in 2012 and the wisdom in 2023. I did not tell him that the unitive message could be divine; but now that I believe it is, I'm ready to file this report.

The Weird Incident (2005)

On Sunday October 2, 2005, the Hartselle, Alabama couple, a 27-year-old man and his girlfriend, along with their roommates, a 20-year-old husband and his wife, wandered into the nave of our church in the middle of the 11 AM Mass. Right after the Blessed Sacrament was reposed, the man and his girlfriend went up to the sanctuary. There, she began to deliver a message to us against worshiping objects. Then, the man foolishly pushed our 500-pound altar over the edge of the sanctuary, causing it to go down the steps and smash into pieces before a crowd of witnesses.¹

At this time, I have gathered a preponderance of evidence to establish that the Most High knowingly allowed our altar to be vandalized before our very eyes, to reveal to us a much greater crime that is happening in the secular world unbeknownst to the public, so that we could ask him, in the highest degree of faith and persistence, to teach us the wisdom to help stop the secret crime. Once I was taught the wisdom, I had both parts of the unitive message, which I'm now called to deliver to the Catholic Church and all churches of Christ.

Why was the altar overturned? (2005-2010)

The day after the altar incident, I read in the Decatur Daily that our priest led us in prayer, asking the Lord to "help us to make sense of why something so senseless happens".² That was my cue to start investigating the incident to try to make sense of why it happened. I noticed that ironically the middle names of the altar vandal and his girlfriend were Joseph and Marie. That irony would eventually help me recognize a familiar pattern. On Tuesday, the Decatur Daily reported the altar vandal's claim that a vision caused him to vandalize our altar, a vision of him and his girlfriend vandalizing a church.³ But that made no sense to me at the time.

Pattern Recognition: The Antithetic Parallelism Between Each AMDV
Joseph heard in a dream the same unusual thing ⁴	that Mary heard in a vision a few months earlier	unbeknownst to him ⁵ , the Annunciation of the Lord.
The altar vandal saw in a vision the same unusual thing	that his girlfriend saw in a dream a few nights earlier	unbeknownst to him ⁶ , a church they were vandalizing.
Mentioned in the Annunciation to Mary was	the miraculous pregnancy of her elderly kinswoman Elizabeth ⁷ ,	the wife of an elderly priest , who was not mentioned.
Arrested at the church with the altar vandal and his girlfriend were	their roommates and accomplices, a 21-year-old wife and	her 20-year-old husband , who was not punished. ⁸

Then in 2010, three years after moving from Alabama to Idaho, I came across a 2005 Huntsville Times article while browsing the internet.⁶ It explained that there was not just a vision, but a matching dream. That's when I was able to recognize the pattern shown in the table above. It's also when I was finally able to make sense of why our altar was vandalized five years earlier. I'll explain why.

An asynchronous mutual dream/vision, or AMDV, is a rare experience known as a meaningful coincidence. When the Alabama couple experienced it, they believed it was supernatural. But because they did not want to vandalize a church, they figured that they were being called to deliver a message to a church on Sunday, a message against "worshiping objects".⁶ (Apparently, they were vandalizing sacred objects in their dream and vision.) As she delivered the message to us, her boyfriend felt the irresistible urge to overturn what he saw as a central object of worship. Then he overturned our altar. That's how we make sense of why it happened.

Now, let's look at the names associated with the AMDV of the vandalized church, to see if they align with the names associated with the AMDV of the Virgin Birth.⁹ Let's go in chronological order. In 1978, the altar vandal was born and was given the middle name Joseph. That aligns. In 1979, his girlfriend was born and was given the middle name Marie, a variant of Mary. That aligns too. In 1984, the 21-year-old wife was born and given the middle name Beth, which is short for Elizabeth. That aligns; and in case you're wondering where the first part of "Elizabeth" went, that was the girlfriend's first name, Lisa.

In 1985, the 20-year-old husband was born and was not given the middle name Zach. Why not? Because Zacharias was never mentioned in the Annunciation. What middle name was the young husband given then? The answer is Eugene, which means well-born. He was well-born, because he was born after October 2, 1984, making him the only youthful offender of the four, the only one therefore who did not get punished. I believe that only the Most High could have known who the four offenders would be before they were even born.

But here's the clincher. In 2003, two years before our church was vandalized, it was built and named Annunciation of the Lord! According to my calculations, the odds of the three adult offenders being near namesakes, by middle name, of Joseph, Mary, and Elizabeth,¹⁰ and our church being a namesake of the Annunciation¹¹ are about $2\% \times 2.2\% \times 3\% \times 0.19\% = 0.0000025\%$ or about 40 million to one!

That is what crime investigators call a signature, something which tells them who the most likely suspect is. It's why I became suspicious that the Most High¹² had knowingly allowed our altar to be overturned. I believe it was for the purpose of subtlety that he used middle names, instead of first names.

Why would the Most High allow the altar to be overturned? (2010-2012)

Suspecting that the Most High knowingly allowed our altar to be overturned, I started asking him why; and the answer I received was, "Because overturning the altar reveals what was under it."

Let's see. To reveal is to make something known that was previously unknown, usually in a surprising manner. It sure was surprising when our altar was overturned, but we already knew that the relics were under it. In fact, the whole town of Decatur knew, since the relics just happened to have been featured in the weekly 'Religion' section of the previous day's Decatur Daily. Incidentally, our four visitors from Hartselle did not see the article. So, it had nothing to do with why they chose our church.

Well then, we already knew what was under the altar physically, but did we know what was under it spiritually? St. John saw the spiritual souls of martyrs under the altar in the Fifth Seal (Rev. 6:9). Since the altar is the place of sacrifice, and every sacrifice is either holy or unholy, the souls under the altar are either those who gave up their lives as a holy sacrifice or those whose lives were given up as an unholy sacrifice. Since the Church has always thought they are the former, what must be getting revealed to us now is that they are the latter, that they are victims of an unholy sacrifice.

Let's try to confirm that as a possible interpretation of the Fifth Seal (Rev. 6:9-11).

Revelation 6:9 (MKJV)

And when He had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain for the Word of God, and for the testimony which they held.

The Lamb (our Lord Jesus) is the one who opened the Fifth Seal, and St. John is the one who saw the souls under the altar. They were slain for two reasons. The first is "for the Word of God." This could apply to anyone, because it was through the Word of God that all things, including these souls, came into being (John 1:1-3).

The second reason is "for the testimony which they held." This also doesn't tell us much. But it's interesting, because the terms "Word of God" and "testimony" appear four times in the Apocalypse (1:2, 1:9, 6:9, and 20:4), and this is the only time that the testimony is not the "testimony of Jesus". That's the first clue which suggests that the souls under the altar might not be the baptized Christian martyrs. Now, let's examine the next verse.

Revelation 6:10 (MKJV)

And they cried with a loud voice, saying, "Until when, Master, holy and true, do You not judge and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?"

Notice that the souls under the altar cry out to their "Master," which is despotes in the Greek text, rather than to their "Lord," which would have been kyrios. In all his inspired writings, this is the only time St. John wrote despotes. Contrast that to kyrios, which he wrote seventy-seven times, mostly in reference to our Lord Jesus. This is another clue which suggests that the souls under the altar might not be the baptized Christian martyrs.

The souls under the altar are asking when their blood will be avenged, which is natural; but vengeance is the opposite of what Jesus and Stephen asked for when they were martyred, which was that their killers be forgiven (Luke 23:34, Acts 7:60). This is a third clue which suggests that the souls under the altar might not be the baptized Christian martyrs. Now, let's examine the third verse.

Revelation 6:11 (MKJV)

And white robes were given to each one of them. And it was said to them that they should rest yet for a little time, until both their fellow servants and their brothers (those about to be killed as they were) should have their number made complete.

Let's consider the white robes. The only other group of souls who have white robes are the saints before the Lamb in Revelation 7:9-17, and they "have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb" (Rev. 7:14). Before they washed their robes, they must have made them dirty by committing personal sin.

Therefore, the saints before the Lamb must have been given their spiritual robes before they were old enough to commit their first personal sin; and since the souls under the altar were killed before they were given their spiritual robes, they must have been killed before they were old enough to commit their first personal sin. So now, we need to ask, "Could the souls under the altar be victims of abortion?"

Do victims of abortion have souls?

We need to confirm that human fetuses can have souls; because if they can't, then the souls under the altar can't be abortion victims. It has been said that a fetus does not have a soul until "it takes its first breath." But what is breath? It is inhaled air, consisting of 21% oxygen. Since the body converts some of the oxygen into carbon dioxide, exhaled air only consists of 16% oxygen.

So, we constantly need to replenish the oxygen in our body. When the widow's young son died, there was no longer any "breath" (Heb. neshamah) in him (1Ki. 17:17). That meant there was no longer any oxygen in him. The soul had exited the boy's body, and Elijah prayed that the soul would reenter the boy's body (v. 21). When his prayer was answered, and the soul reentered the boy's body, the boy was revived (v. 22). Breath was in him once again.

As for a human embryo, it begins to take in oxygen when it becomes implanted in the womb. From that point, the woman is literally breathing oxygen into her offspring. If we take Genesis 2:7 literally, by saying that Adam became a living soul when oxygen (Heb. neshamah) was first breathed into him, then it follows that a human embryo becomes a living soul at implantation, because that's when oxygen is first breathed into the embryo. Since victims of abortion were implanted in the womb, they could very well be "souls of those who had been killed" (Rev. 6:9).

By 2012, I had confirmed the apparent revelation, namely that the souls under the altar in the Fifth Seal are victims of abortion. That enabled me to form a message of knowledge. But because abortion is a divisive topic, it wouldn't have done any good to share the message with churchgoers. To make the message unitive, it was necessary to limit its scope to coerced abortion, since everyone is opposed to that. (See the italicized text below.)

Unitive Message of Knowledge (unitive portion in italics added after 2012)

Today, the souls under the altar in the Fifth Seal are those whose lives are being given up as an unholy sacrifice; and the most unholy sacrifice is coerced abortion. That's the violation of a woman's right to remain pregnant; and even though it's illegal, it happens often, because it's financially incentivized and it's easy to get away with.

But even a unitive message of knowledge doesn't do any good unless we are able to use it to do good. Knowledge without wisdom is useless.

Why would the Most High reveal an unholy sacrifice to us? (2013-2023)

By 2013, I was beginning to believe that the Most High knowingly allowed our altar to be overturned to reveal an unholy sacrifice that is happening in the secular world. But why would he reveal that to us? The answer lies in the twofold fact that the revelation is knowledge and knowledge without wisdom is useless.

Wisdom is the ability to use knowledge to do something good, and to be taught wisdom is to be taught how to use knowledge to do something good. Therefore, the reason why the Most High would reveal an unholy sacrifice to us would be so that he could teach us the wisdom to do something about it.

We cannot stop the unholy sacrifice, but we can certainly be taught how to HELP stop it. It appears that the blood of the sacrificial victims will be avenged¹³ when their number is fulfilled¹⁴, meaning when the unholy sacrifice is STOPPED. Therefore, it's likely that the Most High wants to give us a chance to help STOP the unholy sacrifice, so that we can be clear from the blood of the victims on the day their blood is avenged.

Anyone of us who has received the revelation is able to ask the Most High for the wisdom in the highest degree of faith¹⁵ and persistence¹⁶, because why would he reveal an unholy sacrifice to us without teaching us how Christians can help stop it? I found that we need to receive knowledge of the following facts before we can be taught the wisdom to help stop the most unholy sacrifice:

- A sacrifice can be defined as an act of giving up something to obtain something else for oneself or for others.
- The efficacy of a sacrifice is its power to obtain something for people.
- The way to stop a sacrifice is to take away its efficacy.
- It appears that the efficacy of the animal sacrifice (ie. its power to atone for sins) was taken away in the year 3790 AM according to the scriptures.¹⁷
- The most holy sacrifice was the Godman's act of giving up his own life (apparently in the year 3790 AM) to obtain for others the forgiveness of their debts to God.
- Whoever impregnates a woman incurs a debt of postnatal support to his offspring.
- Unless a debt is certified, giving up the life of the creditor obtains, for the debtor, the forgiveness of his or her debt to the creditor.
- The most unholy sacrifice is the act of coercing a pregnant person (ie. woman or girl) to give up the life of a man's offspring to obtain for the man the forgiveness of his debt of postnatal support to his offspring.
- To take away the efficacy of the most unholy sacrifice would be to take away the financial motive for the crime of coerced abortion, thereby preventing the crime from happening.
- Even though coerced abortion is illegal, it happens often because of two reasons: 1. The would-be criminal has a financial motive to commit the crime, and 2. It is difficult to prove the guilt of the suspect.
- Two studies confirm that the crime of coerced abortion happens often, unbeknownst to the public. One is a 2023 Lozier study which found that in 70% of abortions, the pregnant person felt like she was coerced; and the other is a 2022 Harvard study which found that homicide is a leading cause of death for pregnant people. (In many cases, she is killed for refusing to procure a coerced abortion.)

- Every pregnant person can keep her pregnancy a secret until she begins to show, which is at least the second trimester.
- Thanks to recent advancements in DNA science, every pregnant person can submit proof of paternity, in the form of a blood sample, as early as seven weeks gestation, which is long before she begins to show.

Once we receive the knowledge of those facts, we can be taught the wisdom that we need. That is, we can be taught how to use the knowledge to help stop the most unholy sacrifice. The way that every Christian can help stop coerced abortion is by signing a petition, requesting the state to advance the idea for a bipartisan law, which would give every pregnant woman or girl a way to prevent the crime of coerced abortion. (See the Right to Choose Life Act below.)

The Right to Choose Life Act

The bipartisan law would give every pregnant woman or girl the option to certify up front the debt of support owed to her offspring, so that if anybody was to kill the creditor in her womb, the debt would not be forgiven but would instead be converted into reimbursement for wrongful death, payable to the parents or guardians of children in need, whom she could either list on the certificate or let the state determine.

Exercising the option would take away the financial motive for the crime of coerced abortion, so that the crime doesn't happen. Those who would have had a financial incentive to make her get an abortion, namely her boyfriend/parents, would instead have an easy decision to make, either let her continue the pregnancy and help support their own child/grandchild or make her terminate the pregnancy and help support someone else's child.

The Unitive Invitational Message of Wisdom

By January of 2023, I had both parts of the unitive message, the knowledge and the wisdom. The knowledge of the most unholy sacrifice was revealed to me, because the altar was overturned during Mass at my church in Decatur, Alabama; and the wisdom was taught to me, because the knowledge of the most unholy sacrifice was revealed to me.

Unitive Invitational Message of Wisdom for All Christians

Every Christian is now invited to help stop the most unholy sacrifice (coerced abortion) by signing a petition requesting the state to advance the bipartisan idea of empowering every pregnant person to protect her own right to remain pregnant, that is, her own right to choose life. Whoever believes and helps by signing the petition will be clear from the blood of the victims, but whoever does not believe will not be clear.

A link to the petition can be found at EternalGospelSociety.com or RightToChoose.Life.

The altar was overturned, because an Alabama couple experienced an asynchronous mutual dream/vision of themselves vandalizing a church. Mary and Joseph experienced an AMDV of themselves being chosen to be the Virgin Mother and foster father of Jesus, the son of the Most High.

The alignment in the names associated with each AMDV, coupled with the knowledge and wisdom that was revealed and taught to me, cause me to believe that the Most High knowingly allowed our altar to be vandalized before our very eyes, to reveal a much greater crime that is happening in the secular world unbeknownst to the public, so that we could ask him, in the highest degree of faith and persistence, to teach us the wisdom to help stop the secret crime, which is coerced abortion.

That's why I was obligated¹⁸ to write this letter to the Catholic Church and all churches of Christ. My main purpose, however, is not to convince you that the unitive invitational message is divine, but that it is accurate and important enough to be announced at your place of worship. If you have any questions, please contact me or the one who delivered this letter to you. Thank you for learning about the unitive invitational message of wisdom for all Christians.

Yours truly in Christ,

About the Author of this Report

You can call me a Catholic Christian, because I'm a dual member of the Catholic Church, via pedobaptism in 1967, and the churches of Christ, via credobaptism in 1990. Here is how that happened.

In 1989, God joined together me and a preacher's daughter. Our wedding was held in a Catholic church, thousands of miles away from her family. When we flew to Alaska in 1990 to visit them, my father-in-law welcomed me to the family with open arms and offered to administer credobaptism to me while we were there. Since I did not see anything wrong with accepting his offer, I accepted it; and to this day, I still see nothing wrong with having accepted it. That's how I became a member of the churches of Christ without renouncing my membership in the Catholic Church.

From 1990 to 2007, I would attend Mass each Saturday at my church, so that on Sunday, I could attend Bible study and worship with my wife at her church. Since I wasn't at Mass on Sunday, October 2, 2005, I didn't know about the altar incident until I saw it on the local news that evening.

I make a living as a software engineer. Without Jesus Christ, I never could have graduated from the University of Texas with a Bachelor of Science in electrical engineering, let alone with a 4.0 GPA.¹⁹ I believe that qualified me to be taught, over the course of 10 years, how Christians can help stop the most unholy sacrifice.

Asking to be taught was like taking a class; but every time I tried to drop it, I would bring my gift to the altar, and there I would remember that my teacher²⁰ had something against me²¹. Our altar was overturned, so that we would take his class, and I had no excuse to drop it. So, I persevered until I was finally taught how every Christian can help stop the most unholy sacrifice; and believing that wisdom to be divine, I ran for my state house in 2024 on the bipartisan "right to choose life" platform. Now, I'm called to deliver the unitive invitational message of wisdom to the Catholic Church and all churches of Christ.
